A Public Want.

The providing of the necessary facilities for intellectual, scientific, and esthetic culture among the people of our island home is an object in which we feel a deep interest, and one which we think cannot fail to receive, as it Tax following loss of Government Land will be lessed | certainly deserves, not only the hearty symfor a term of awanty-five years, by Public Auction, on | pathy but the active co-operation of our liberal and public-spirited citizens. That there exists among us in large measure both the disposition and the ability to devise and carry out One laten Fort Street, between Mr. Strehl's cooper shop | liberal measures looking to the public good, is a fact which we think will not be disputed. All particulars can be obtained at the office of the It is with some degree of confidence, therefore, that we call the attention of our readers to a want which has long existed-a want which we know to be recognised by many of the best and most intelligent people among us, and the supplying of which, we believe to be not only desirable but at the present time entirely practicable. The matter to which we have the English language throughout the Kingdom, will ex. reference is the establishment, in some convenient and central location in this city, of a good public library and reading room. The necessary limits of an article of this kind forbids our going into the matter at any great length; but we feel that such an institution has come to be a public necessity, and we are confident, moreover, that its successful inauguration only awaits the combined action of a reasonable number of active and publicspirited gentlemen. We are, of course, perfeetly well aware that there is now, at the Government House, quite a large and in some respects a valuable collection of books, and that there is also maintained at the Sailors' Home, a reading room under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, Repeated personal visits have made us quite familiar with the scope and operation of both the above institutions, and though we would in no degree under-estimate the value or the usefulness of either, we see clearly that neither of them nor both together supply in any considerable degree the want which undoubtedly exists, and which can only be met as it is met alsewhere-by an institution of an entirely different character and conducted on a liberal and popular basis. The library at the Government House, though extensive and valuable in certain departments, is markedly deficient in certain others, such as current general literature, recent scientific discovery and discussion, etc., etc., and it unfortunately happens that the departments in which it is most deficient embrace precisely. in which it is most deficient embrace precisely the classes of books which the experience of public libraries in other places shows to be most in demand among current readers. The fact is, it was, we suppose, never intended as a general library for popular use, and it is not reasonable to expect that it should be. The government library, moreover, is only open in the day time and during business hours-just the time, in other words, when most persons are unable to avail themselves of it; it is in a tions of $100, $200, $200, $1000, and $5,000, can be had location not convenient for most of our people : and, finally, books cannot be drawn out, but only read on the premises. The reading room at the Sailors' Home we have no doubt does some good, but the scope of its usefulness is exceedingly narrow, and cannot, we think, be much enlarged. It has a small number of newspapers, a still smaller supply of current periodicals, and no library at all. Its location and surroundings, moreover, are such as to effectually prevent its ever becoming a popular place of resort. What is wanted in Honolulu is a good reading room and circulating library combined. It should be in a convenient and central location, with such accommodations as would make it attractive and popular: it should be open day and evening-evenings especially: it should be well supplied with current papers and periodicals: should have a competent person in attendance; and, finally, it should provide for books being drawn out under reasonable and proper regulations. That such an institution as we have here outlined is needed and could accomplish a vast amount of good can hardly be doubted. As before remarked, we believe its successful establishment and operation to be perfectly fessible. All that is needed is that the proper parties, those in whom the public have confidence as men of intelligence, public spirit and good faith, shall take hold of the enterprise and make a start. We hear much in these days of the "new era of prosperity" which has opened for our islands. We read week by week of increased imports and exports, of vastly augmented production and rapidly accumulating wealth, and we ask if out of all this material growth and progress there shall come nothing for the higher interests of our people? Not by trade and commerce, not by agriculture, nor by the accumulation of riches alone does any comrespect and admiration of others; but by the intelligent and liberal application of the pro-Lospon, November 10.—A treaty was made se-cretly at the time of the Congress, and contained a provise that in the event of Russia claiming, on the ground of humanity, to preserve order and remain in Turkey beyond the date that the Congress specified, England and Austria were to undertake the police duties, and to compel Russia to evacuate. Sr. Parzasaung, October 31.—The Golos rejoicss over the delay in English operations against Afghauistan. It says that as long as peace continues, Russia can give arms and money to any one.

Lunnox, October 31 .- Gladstone, in a speech de-livered to-day at Rhyl, declined to give the Government the confidence they asked on the Afghanistan question, and complained of their withholding au-thoritative information. Reviewing the information which was obtainable, he showed that the relations with Afghanistan were satisfactory during his admin-istration, and justified the displeasure of the Ameer at the British occupation of Quettab. He pointed out that the weak Power which a professedly chivulrous that the weak Power which a professedly chivalrous fovernment threatened to punish for receiving the Russian Embassy was less culpuble than the sender of the Embassy. The sending of the Embassy was apparently a breach of Russia's engagements to England, but he feared that Russia would cite as justification the unfriendly conduct of the British Government. Gladstone declared that to saddle India with the expenses of defence against imaginary dangers would be an injustice as monstrous as any recorded in the history of the world.

Gladstone, in conclusion, asked the people to compare the state of England in 1873 with that in 1878. He energetically defended the Geneva arbitration, and thought it lar better to make a nation of forty millions a friend than one of eighty millions an enemy. What they were now protesting against was not merely, a series of false steps, but a new system of Government by personal responsibility of the sover eign, only likely to sap the foundation of the Mon-

The same correspondent says the ultimatum demands a full apology and the reception of a British mission by the Ameer, with other conditions. There is no expectation that it will be accepted. It is hoped that the Amer will refuse to permit the Emis-sary, who started on Monday, to cross the frontier, but it is believed he will temporise. Another despatch from Simla says the ultimatum gives the Ameer a very short time to maswer, at the expiration of which time it is believed there will be a general advance.

A Bombay dispatch says : Intelligence has been received here which justifies the confidence of the English people is the loyalty of the Indian Princes. Offers of aid are coming from all directions. Native troops are eagar to advance on Afghanistan. The A Paris correspondent says : It appears that the discontent in Spain is confined to a handful of agita-tors, but that a more serious element of disaffection exists in the army.

The London Telegroph says: The machinations which threaten the fulfillment of the European settlement are closely watched and will be thwarted by the resolute vigilance of Lord Benconsfield's Govern ment, with the loyal support of France and Austria and the approval of Germany. The Times' Washington special says: In a con-The Times? Washington special says: In a conversation with Key, on the condition of the Chinese in California, he gave the following as the result of his observations during his recent wisit to the Pacific Coast: "The politicians are almost to a man against the Chinese, and antagonize them bitterly. Merchants, manufacturers, farmers, and nearly the entire employing class are very fond of the Chinese, and prefer them to any other laborers. They speak in the highest terms of the Chinese. They say they are decile, obedient, obliging, numerual, hardworking are docile, obedient, obliging, punctual, hardworking and faithful. They are exceedingly thrilty and ecoand faithful. They are exceedingly thrity and eco-nomical. They are temperate in their babits, do not drink liquors of any kind, eat very little meat, and live almost entirely on rice. It is wonderful to see how little a Chinaman can live on. Their economy struck me as something marveious. Large numbers of them sleep in a single, ill-ventilated room. They constantly violate the fundamental laws of health, and yet they are seemingly very healthy. I was astonished to learn that they had no hospital. I was shown through the Chinese Quarter of San Francisco by the Mayor, and saw everything in that locality, but there are a number of places here in Washington. but there are a number of places here in Washingto fully as bad, if not worse, than anything I saw in Chinatown. I also observed that the Railroad Companies employed a large number of Chinamen, and found them excellent workmen." CHICAGO, October 31 .- The Southern cities, ger erally, report few cases of yellow fever to-day, and a gradual lessening of deaths. MEMPHIS, October 31 .- From 6 o'clock last evening until noon to-day the undertakers report five orders for interments. No deaths from yellow fever in the last twenty-four hours. NEW ORLEANS, October 31 .- Deaths, 12; case

WASHINGTON, October 31 .- The U. S. Consul at Tangier has transmitted a despatch to the State Department, giving an account of the frarful ravages of cholera in the interior of Morocco. The intery among the people is great. Business is almost com-pletely paralized. The cholera is sweeping over the middle and southern provinces. Hundreds are dying of starvation. To all these miseries, small-pox and malignant fevers add their horrors. Never before has Morocco passed through such a fearful order. has Morocco passed through such a fearful ordeal. All the leading Israelites and many Europeans have fled from Tangier, panic-stricken. Wild and uncertain rumors of the ravages of the pestilence in the in terior, which are brought daily to Tangier by refu-gees, add to the general consternation. While im-mense numbers of persons are starving in the very streets of Tangier, and merchants are selling all breadstuffs at cost, the authorities still persist in levying a tariff of ten per cent. on all imports of pro-visions. Add to all these fearful visitations the further fact that the neighboring countries have al-most completely cut off Morocco from communication with the outside world, and no gloomier picture can be imagined.

be imagined. HAVANA, October 31 .- The report of the selling of enolies brought by Dr. Seechi from Trinidad is con-firmed, with the addition that Seechi had engaged to bring from Trinidad and Demarara 10,000 coolies a year, they being contracted for five years at one shilling a day, and that of forty coolies whom Seechi had already brought, he had sold three at Santiago de Cuba for $200 each. The fraud in the contracts, which were made out in English and Spanish, consisted in the English not being a translation of the Spanish, as the latter gave Secchi full power of trans-fer, whilst the former did not meetion this condition. Some of the contracts were for one year and signed by coolies who could not read. The remaininder were for 5 years, signed with their marks by those who could not read or did not understand the contracts. The British Consul therefore select the contracts, and The British Consul therefore seized the contracts, and after considerable trouble and resistance on the part of Seechi, who brought a civil action against the coolles for breach of contract and a criminal action against the Consul himself, the latter succeeded in shipping the cooltes back to Trinidad. Some misunderstanding was reported to have arisen between the British Consul and the Government here, and it was reported that the latter had threatened to withdraw the Consul's exequatur. The audacity of the whole scheme will be appreciated when the fact is known that these coolies were, without exception, British subjects.
